

Financial Services Guide (FSG)

This Financial Services Guide was prepared on 31 March 2024

What is a Financial Services Guide?

This Financial Services Guide ('FSG') provides information about the financial products and services provided by Diversa Trustees Limited ABN 49 006 421 638 ('Diversa'). It helps you understand and decide if you wish to use the financial services we are able to offer you.

Diversa and its representatives may also be collectively referred to as "us, we or our" throughout this FSG.

This FSG sets out the services we provide. It tells you:

- who we are and how we can be contacted;
- what services and products we are authorised to provide to you;
- how we (and any other relevant parties) are paid; and
- how we deal with complaints.

Occasionally we provide general advice. This is where we may express an opinion or recommendation influencing you in making a decision in relation to a financial product, but where we have not considered your personal objectives, financial situation or needs. If we provide you with general advice, we will provide you with a warning that the advice may not be appropriate to your needs, financial situation or objectives.

At the time we issue any financial product to you, we will give you a PDS issued by us. A PDS contains information about the financial product to assist you in making an informed decision about the product. The PDS will outline relevant terms, significant risks, and fees and costs associated with the product. You should consider the PDS carefully before making a decision about whether the product is right for you.

We have arrangements in place to maintain professional indemnity insurance. This insurance satisfies the requirements under s912B of the Corporations Act 2001.

Please retain this FSG for your reference and any future dealings with us. We may also add documents at a later date which will also form part of this FSG, and these should be read together with the FSG. These documents will include the word 'FSG' in the heading.

Who will be providing the financial services to you?

On whose behalf do we act?

As we are a product issuer, we act on our own behalf when we provide financial services to you. We do not act on your behalf.

What services and products are we authorised to provide to you?

We are authorised by our AFSL to provide general financial product advice in relation to deposit products and superannuation.

We are also authorised to deal in superannuation products, and to provide a superannuation trustee service. We are authorised by our AFSL to provide these services and products to both retail and wholesale clients.

We will only provide you with general advice and dealing services in relation to the products that we issue. We will not provide you with general advice or dealing services in relation to products issued by other financial services providers. There is an important difference between 'general advice' and 'personal advice'. In providing general advice we do not take into account your particular objectives, financial situation or needs. We are not authorised under our AFSL to provide you with other advice services such as personal advice.

We do not provide personal financial advice or tax advice. If you require personal financial advice or tax advice you should seek advice from appropriately qualified professionals.

What benefits do we receive for providing our services?

Diversa does not charge you for the provision of general advice. Diversa receives fees for acting as trustee of each superannuation fund of which it is the trustee. Fees paid to Diversa may be calculated as a flat annual fee, based on the assets held in the superannuation fund or calculated with reference to specific activities or services (or a combination of these calculation methods). Details of these fees are set out in the PDS for each superannuation fund of which Diversa is the trustee and can be obtained upon request free of charge by contacting us using the details set out in this FSG.

Diversa may also incur costs when acting as the trustee of a superannuation fund and may be entitled to recoup those costs from the fund. Details of the trustee's right of indemnity for costs is set out in the trust deed for each relevant superannuation fund.

You may request more details about the way we are remunerated in respect of our role as trustee of a specific superannuation fund by contacting us using the information in this FSG. Requests should be made within a reasonable time after receiving this document and before any financial service identified in this FSG is provided to you.

How are we and third parties remunerated?

Diversa's directors and employees are paid a salary and may also be awarded an annual bonus which may comprise fixed and variable components, and cash benefits.

Bonuses will depend on the achievement of performance targets which may include the delivery of improved financial outcomes for members.

Diversa's shareholders (including any shareholders of a related body corporate) may also receive a benefit based on Diversa's ongoing company performance.

Diversa relies on a range of third parties appointed to provide services to superannuation fund members. These service providers include superannuation fund sponsors and promoters (Promoters) who are paid fees for the services they provide to superannuation fund members. Fees paid to Promoters may be calculated as a flat annual fee, based on the assets held in the superannuation fund or calculated with reference to specific activities or services (or a combination of these calculation methods). Details of these fees are set out in the PDS for each superannuation fund of which Diversa is the trustee and can be obtained upon request free of charge by contacting us using the details set out in this FSG.

You may request more details about the way Diversa, our directors and employees, relevant third parties or our shareholders are remunerated by contacting us using the information in this FSG.
